

Camp Logistics / Tour leaders

Summer Work

We are looking for Camp logistics / Tour Leaders for summer 2012 to lead and work with groups of adult walking clients on a camping version of the Tour du Mont Blanc Trek. The ideal candidate would be someone who enjoys the mountains and outdoors, working with people, has an interest and ability in cooking, is a good driver, can supervise themselves and has good organisational skills.

Dates – starting 9th June 2012 to early September

Principal duties – Liaising with clients, shopping for and preparing breakfasts, pack lunches and dinners (8 nights out of 14), driving the support van, moving luggage and equipment, overseeing all other operations needed to run the trip.

The good bits – outdoor lifestyle, social, beautiful area, responsibility.

The bad bits – It is hard work but if you are organised there can be plenty of free time and you'll get to enjoy the area around Chamonix and Mont Blanc.

Conditions – The pay is reasonable and the contract is full board so you have very few expenses.

There is a lot more to say. If in principle you are interested please email us on info@hightrails.co.uk and we can give you more details about the position and arrange a time to chat.

We look forward to hearing from you,

Mark and Carey Faulkner
